61 Social Impact Businesses Awarded $25M in Funding and Support, With Launch of California Regional Initiative for Social Enterprise

California Regional Initiative for Social Enterprise (CA RISE), a nation-leading statewide investment in businesses hiring people with systemic barriers to employment, is set to fuel economic inclusion and mobility for all Californians.

San Francisco, CA (August 7, 2024) – Sixty-one employment social enterprise (ESE) businesses have been tapped to receive $25 million in grant funding and capacity building support through CA RISE, a newly launched initiative that leverages the power of mission-driven businesses to help more Californians overcoming barriers to employment, such as homelessness or incarceration.

CA RISE grantee businesses hail from 16 counties across the state of California, and collectively employ over 8,000 people facing barriers to employment. Roughly 75 percent of CA RISE leaders have firsthand experience of the barriers faced by the people they employ, and 60 percent of these businesses are led by people of color.

ESEs exist to serve people often overlooked by employers because of their experiences of homelessness, incarceration, mental health/substance use challenges, or their status as refugees/asylees, survivors of domestic violence or trafficking, or opportunity youth/emerging adults. Each ESE business in CA RISE was selected based on the strengths of their businesses and robust supportive services for employees.

CA RISE is a project funded by the State of California, through the California Office of the Small Business Advocate \(CalOSBA\), in collaboration with nonprofit REDF (serving as program lead), and minority-led small business lender Lendistry (serving as fiscal agent).

“CalOSBA’s mission is to increase economic mobility through entrepreneurship,” shares CalOSBA Director Tara Lynn Gray. “Employment social enterprises have a proven track record of achieving that objective through employment and on-the-job training. We are confident that this program will further the Governor’s vision of a California For All.”

“REDF is honored to collaborate with CalOSBA and Lendistry, and to work with these tenacious leaders of California employment social enterprises,” says REDF president and CEO Maria Kim.

“Jobs are a key to stability and economic mobility, and this investment unlocks opportunities for so many Californians. California leads the country in its breadth of support for ESEs, and we anticipate that CA RISE will serve as a model for programs in other states across the country.”
